RETIRE UNDER A HEAVY GUARD

Georgia's Outgoing Governor Is "Game."

COMMENTS ON CASE OF FRANK

"Pilate Gave Christ Over To Mob," He Says, In Bitter Irony.

NAT E. HARRIS SUCCEEDS HIM

Atlanta, Ga., June 26.—Artillery, cavalry and infantry of the State militia stood guard to-night at the home of John M. Slaton, who retired as Governor of the State to-day, surrendering the office to Nat E. Harris. During the day twenty-six men were arrested by the militia near the Slaton home, and were still held in the county jail to-night. Firearms and explosives, it is alleged, were taken from them. To-night, however, there was no indication of renewed demonstrations against the former Governor because of his action in commuting the sentence of Leo M. Frank.

The guard about the Slaton home will be maintained, it was stated to-night, until the Adjutant General is satisfied that all danger is passed.

The former Governor spent the night at home with his family. He plans to leave with Mrs. Slaton next week for a vacation trip to California. They were to have left to-night but Mr. Slaton said he had determined not to leave under fire.

In the city streets double patrols of police were on duty, but there was no sign of disturbances. Few inauguration visitors remained in the city to-night and the crowds were orderly.

At a luncheon given to-day in honor of the new Governor, the retiring Governor referred to the Frank case as follows:

"Honest people may disagree with me, an honest man," he said, "but we realize that we must be measured by our consciences. Two thousand years ago another Governor washed his hands of a case and turned over a Jew to a mob. For 2,000 years that Governor's name has been accursed. If to-day another Jew were lying in his grave because I had failed to do my duty, I would all through life find his blood on my hands and would consider myself an assassin through cowardice."

No reference to the Frank case was made by Gov. Harris in his speech. He expressed the hope, however, that "we will have no more trouble."

During the inaugural ceremonies at the capitol there were several tense moments. When Gov. Slaton approached the new Governor to deliver State seals, a few hisses were heard. President Persons, of the State Senate, warned the spectators that unless they were in order the galleries would be cleared. Instantly there was a tumult of applause. Presenting the seal, Gov. Slaton said:

"Gov. Harris, I know that during my term of office this great seal of State has not been dishonored."

His words were greeted with another prolonged outburst of applause.

Leaving the capitol the crowd surged in on the former Governor and had to be held back by the militia. Hisses and shouts greeted his ears. Gov. Slaton hurried to his automobile. Under the impression that he was on his way to the terminal station the crowd hurried there, where the police had to disperse a throng. Meanwhile the motorcar had arrived at the hotel where the luncheon to Gov. Harris was given.

THE MAMMOTH TOTAL RESOURCES OF BANKS

Washington, June 26.—Loans and discounts of the 7,604 national banks reporting to the Controller of the Currency at the close of business May 1 amounted to $6,643,887,951, an increase over March 4, 1915, of $143,923,346, and over June 30, 1914, of nearly $214,000,000.

Total resources of the reporting banks amounted to $11,842,354,995, an increase over June, 1914, of more than $360,000,000. Total deposits

May 1 were $8,892,047,738. Time deposits showed an increase over June, 1914, of $735,000,000, while demand deposits showed a decrease of $432,000,000 below the June total, but an increase over March 4, 1915, of about $275,500,000.

TWENTY-TWO INNINGS TO A SCORELESS TIE

Burlington, Iowa, June 27.—Burlington and Keokuk, in the Central Association, played 22 innings to a scoreless tie to-day, breaking the records of organized baseball for the longest game without a score. The game was called because of darkness.

It was a pitcher's duel between Miller, of Burlington, and Watkins, of Keokuk. Miller allowed seven hits and struck out 17, while Watkins allowed six hits and struck out 14. Both pitchers were strong at the close of the game.

The longest previous game without a score was between Portland and Oakland, of the Pacific Coast League, at Oakland, California, in 1910, when Willis and Krapp pitched 18 scoreless innings.

The longest ball game on record was in Cleveland July 4, 1907, when the Brooklyn Athletic Club defeated the East End All Stars 4 to 1 in 30 innings.

The Detroit Americans played Washington to an 18-inning scoreless tie in 1900, Summers, Gray and Groome doing the pitching. The score:

Club	R. H. E.
Burlington	0 6 2
Keokuk	0 7 2
Batteries—Miller and Rolleg; Watkins and Brown.

EXPLOSION ON TOWBOAT CAUSES LOSS OF VESSEL

Maysville, Ky., June 27.—A lighted lantern placed too close to tanks containing two hundred gallons of gasoline on board the Anna M. Shaw, a towboat belonging to M. C. Petty, of Vanceburg Ky., caused the gasoline to explode, setting fire to the boat and destroying it. The boat had in tow two barges of railroad ties bound for Cincinnati and had tied up here for the night. When the explosion took place the barges were cut loose and saved, but the boat was burned to the water's edge and sank later. The explosion threw the tanks fifty feet up on the bank of the river. In trying to save the boat Capt. Petty and First Mate Walter Sparks were seriously burned. The Maysville fire department rushed to the scene of the fire, but was unable to render assistance. The loss was $3,500, with no insurance. This is the largest boat to burn here on the river in a score of years.

FIFTY MILLIONS PROFIT FOR DU PONT POWDER CO.

Wilmington, Del., June 28.—The common stock of the Du Pont Powder Company, which has had a sensational rise within the past five months, touched $700 Saturday. The par is $100. The advance means a profit of about $50,000,000 to the syndicate of Du Pont Company officials, headed by the President, Pierre S. Du Pont, who bought the holdings of General T. Coleman Du Pont, former President, last February.

The price paid for the General's stock was $200 a share, or an approximate total of $20,000,000.

The stock was not acquired for speculative purposes. When the then President of the company announced his intention to retire from active participation in the management of the powder concern, other leading officials bought the shares in order to control them. They organized a holding company.

Soon afterward, when big war orders were received from Europe, the stock went upward by leaps and bounds. General Du Pont is satisfied, however, for during the month of January he was in the hospital, and preceding the sale his holdings increased $5,000,000.

It was following this sale that the General bought the majority stocks of the Equitable Life Assurance Society from the Morgan estate.

Lynnland College No More.

Old Lynnland College, in Hardin county, known to most of our older citizens and quite a number of the present generation, is no more. On last Wednesday, June 23, it was dedicated as the Kentucky Baptists Orphans Home. It will not only be used as an orphan's home, but also as an educational and industrial school. ## BRIGHT FUTURE AHEAD FOR U. S.

Unprecedented Prosperity Is At Hand.

THE WHEAT HARVEST TO BRING

In Hundreds Of Millions—American Dollar Reigns the World Over.

COTTON LOW, ACCOUNT OF WAR

New York, June 26.—The American to-morrow will print the following editorial under the caption: "Unprecedented Prosperity Is Ahead of the United States."

The cash price of wheat yesterday was $1.40 a bushel. On the same day last year the price was 97c. This means that the 950,000,000-bushel crop now promised will be worth to American producers more than $427,000,000 more than last year's crop.

Corn sold yesterday at 86c against 77c last year. The promised crop of 2,600,000,000 bushels means an increased value to the American producer of $203,000,000.

Oats are selling at 9c a bushel more than last year. The indicated crop is about 1,100,000,000 bushels. American farmers have a prospective increase profit of $99,000,000 from oats.

Copper sells at 20.35c a pound this year, against 13.2c last year, an increase of about 50c a ton. The United States production of copper last year was 555,000 tons. The increased value of copper upon last year's output would be $83,250,000 but this year's production will be vastly increased over last and at the higher price.

Steel billets are $2 a ton higher than last year, and our production last year was over 31,000,000 tons. This year's steel production will also exceed last year's, so that steel producers will receive at least $62,000,000 more than they did last year.

Cotton is 4 cents a pound less than last year, owing to Great Britain's blockade of our neutral commerce. Last year's production was 14,000,000 bales. This means a loss of $280,000,000 to Southern planters.

The American dollar is now the only paper money in the world on a par with gold the world over.

A pound of sterling, worth nominally $4.86, cost yesterday $4.77 at the New York rate for cable transfers of money.

French currency was at five per cent discount, as compared with the United States par currency.

German currency yesterday was fourteen per cent discount in the New York Foreign Exchange market.

Italian currency was fifteen per cent discount, measured by the American dollar.

Austrian and Russian currency were both almost 25 per cent discount, measured by the New York Exchange price.

United States 3 per cent bonds were quoted yesterday at 100 1-4 bid.

British Consols, paying 2 1/2 per cent interest, hitherto supposed to be the strongest security in the world, sold at 65 last week, a new low record since 1889. The fall in price last week was due to the new British war loan of more than a billion dollars soon to be issued at par and paying 4 1/2 per cent interest.

French rentes, the French Government security of the high class, sold yesterday at 70 1/2 against 86 1/2 on the same date last year and at an average of 92 1/2 for several years prior to last year.

The trade of the United States with foreign nations for the fiscal year 1915 ending next Thursday will show a balance in favor of the United States of more than $1,000,000,000.

These figures indicate why the owners of American securities abroad are loath to sell them.

The United States will, as a nation, have unequaled and unprecedented prosperity, and before many months pass.

Some people who have nothing else to keep, try to keep up appearances.

THE PEACE BIRD NOT IN EVIDENCE

In European Countries, Wilson Is Told.

COLONEL HOUSE BRINGS NEWS

From Abroad Indicating That War Will Be Long Drawn Out.

PRESIDENT'S CLOSE ADVISER

New York, June 26.—President Wilson does not see any prospect for an early peace in Europe.

Colonel E. M. House, his close friend and unofficial envoy to Europe, gave the President the results of his sojourn of several months in the principal capitals of Europe, where he talked intimately with the responsible officials of the German, British and French Governments.

The information he imparted in the long walks and talks which they enjoyed reflected definitely the ideas held by both diplomats and the military element in each of the countries at war. He also disclosed the various beliefs and currents of public opinion in each country as to what might be the possible terms of peace, and the trend of public opinion toward the different peace proposals that have been brought forward from time to time in informal discussions by the press and peace organizations.

The President has been guided largely by what Colonel House has reported to him by cable and letters in handling the delicate question of replying to the efforts of the United States to bring about a general acceptance of mediation. Mr. Wilson himself said to the Washington correspondents that no new tenders of good offices had been made to any of the warring Powers, but that all foreign Governments well understood the willingness of the United States to be of any service in any way possible to pave the way for an approach to peace.

One fundamental thing the President has learned, which has affected the efforts of the United States to make peace, is the unpreparedness of public opinion in some of the belligerent countries as to terms which they fear the adversaries might advance, or that are already discussed.

Colonel House observed during his trip to Europe that public opinion in some countries was most insistent on terms which the Governments of those countries already had learned in various ways would not be acceptable to their opponents.

In all countries he found that there had developed among the masses a desire for a settlement that would be commensurate with the sacrifice in blood and treasure that had been made by the people. If left to the diplomats in Europe alone, a return to the territorial status quo would, perhaps, not be difficult, some of the information indicated.

In Germany, it seemed, according to reliable information given the President, that the object of the large and influential party was to prepare public opinion for a realization of the idea that Germany's best interests lie in colonial expansion and the incidental development of overseas commerce, rather than in territorial extension in Europe proper. The question, however, which Colonel House thinks likely will play a most important part in any peace negotiations is "freedom of the seas," the principle that the property of all private citizens, except contraband, shall be exempt from capture or seizure on the high seas in time of war.

LIVES TWENTY MINUTES WITH CUT JUGULAR VEIN

Rockport, Ind., June 27.—Joseph Ashley, 35, was killed last night at Hatfield, a small town near here, by William Hisey. It is alleged, in a cutting scrape. Hisey is said to have drawn a knife and inflicted the wound, which was eight inches long, and nearly decapitated Ashley. Ashley lived twenty minutes, although the jugular vein was severed, and died without medical aid two blocks from the scene of the crime. Hisey went to the home of a friend, and when told that Ashley had died he fled. A posse has so far failed to catch him.

EXISTING CONDITIONS AND REASONS THEREFOR

Hartford, Ky., June 28, 1915.

Editors Herald:—With your permission I will be glad to furnish the people of Ohio county some statements of facts, which in my opinion have a great part in causing the reign of lawlessness in our county.

One class of our citizens violate the law when it is thought to be to their advantage to do so, either for gain or to gratify their passions. Another class fail to enforce the law for fear of bringing reproach upon themselves from the lawbreaker, and thereby become a party to the offense, and some will act and swear falsely that they may gratify their lusts in some form.

These classes make it difficult for that class who are anxious to uphold the law for the good of all classes and the coming generations. Our officials are divided into about the same classes and for the same reasons, so that the good citizen or official is often tempted to take matters in his own hand for adjustment. So to provoke thought and action, I will state my reason for writing. "That it is better to make a mistake, trying to tell the truth, than never tell the truth for fear of making a mistake."

More next week.

YOUNG WIFE JUST CANT LIVE ON $25,000 A YEAR

New York, June 26.—Although she will not be 21 years old until next December, Mrs. Olga V. Florman, wife of Nils Florman, of 777 Madison avenue, finds it impossible to live on her income of $25,000 a year.

She to-day applied to the Surrogate's Court for permission to draw a lump sum of $25,000 this year from the principal of a $300,000 trust fund which her father left for her.

Nils Florman, her husband, was once the fiancé of Miss Helen Stallo, wealthy daughter of Edmund K. Stallo. She jilted him, and he was later reported engaged to Katherine Force, sister of Mrs. John Jacob Astor. This report was denied.

DALLAS IS OUT AFTER 1916 DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Washington, June 26.—Dallas wants the next National Democratic Convention and to-day launched her campaign. State Senator J. C. McNealus, of Dallas, came to Washington and talked over the matter with Cato Selts, National Committeeman from Texas, and Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

If Dallas gets the big gathering it will be the first Democratic convention of its kind to meet in the South since the Richmond convention in 1860. The general impression is that Chicago will be the scene of both 1916 conventions.

Farewell Reception.

The Central City Argus says: The ladies of the First Christian church in this city, as a small token of appreciation of the work of Mrs. E. P. Barnes in that congregation, tendered to Mrs. Barnes last Friday afternoon a farewell reception. The reception was given at the home of Mrs. J. W. Bastin at the corner of West Second and Center streets. The Bastin home had been elaborately decorated for the occasion. June roses predominating. Guests called between the hours of two and five o'clock, and the large number of callers attested the esteem in which Mrs. Barnes is held here and the general regret that Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are to remove from Central City to Hopkinsville. Frappe and sherbet were served. Mrs. Young, of Nelson, Miss Riley, of Hartford, and Miss Baird, of Leitchfield, were among the out-of-town guests present.

Big Majority For Roads.

Davies county in her bond issue election for good roads, failed to give the two-thirds majority for the proposition, but good lawyers say that a majority only is needed to make it legal. The county proposes to issue $600,000 in bonds. The vote for the proposition was 4,373 and against it 2,443. The City of Owensboro's vote for it was 1,962 as against 484.

The progress of civilization is slow when a gain of ten yards of ditch is heralded as a victory.

TERRIFIC FIGHT ON BATTLE LINE

Near LaBassée, In Northern France.

BATTALION WAS ANNIHILATED

Troops Mowed Down By German Machine Guns—A Brave Charge.

500 OUT OF 600 OR 700 FELL

Toronto, Ont., June 26.—The first Western Ontario battalion was all but annihilated in the action near LaBassée, in Northern France, June 15, says a semi-official account received here to-day. Out of between 600 and 700 men the battalion lost in killed and wounded nearly 500, including 20 officers.

Twelve of the officers were killed in this action, according to the account, leaving only three officers of the battalion unscathed.

The First Western Ontario Battalion, the account says, was selected to act in co-operation with the British troops in attacking a German position. Three trenches were their objective. They came from the rear, having had a rest preparatory to the onslaught, which took place in the evening. The Germans apparently had an idea that a serious attack was to be attempted, and, as events proved, had made elaborate preparations for resistance.

The first enemy trench was only 40 yards away from that occupied by the First Ontario Battalion. A mine had been laid and its explosion was the signal for a forward movement on the part of the Canadians. The mine itself killed many Germans.

A member of the battalion who took part in the subsequent charge declared that the battalion rushed forward under a terrific fire from machine guns and bursting high explosives.

"I shall never forget," he said, "looking around and seeing Colonel Breher, of London, Ontario, apparently standing on the parapet of a trench, leading his men by voice and gesture. The next instant the Colonel fell, struck by a bomb, and was carried to the rear, but did not live long."

"Conditions grew more terrible as the fight progressed. The Germans brought up reinforcements from troops that were fighting the British, with whom we were flanked."

"The second trench was about 60 yards beyond the first, which we captured, or about 100 yards from our starting point. The cost to ourselves in taking the first trench was very great. We took the second trench, and it proved a hot position."

"We then went for the third trench but the Germans, with reinforcements, concentrated a tremendous volume of fire upon us. I should think by this time considerably more than half our officers and men had been killed or wounded."

"Gradually the position became untenable, and it was necessary to relinquish the ground already won. We could not, with our depleted force, remain there, so we moved back. The Germans then tried hard to shift us from our original position, but to no purpose."

"The battalion went into that action from 600 to 700 strong. The killed and wounded numbered nearly 500, including 20 out of 23 officers, 12 of whom were killed."

Base Ball At Rockport.

Rockport, Ky., June 26.—Neil McDougall's double, after W. G. Her and Clarence Sheffield had got on third and second, won to-day's game from Martwick second team in the ninth inning, after two were out. Clarence Sheffield did the hurrying for the local second team and struck out fourteen. Harry Ham pitched for Martwick and was saved many times by good fielding. The game was tied twice before it was finally won in the ninth.

This team would like to play any second team in the county. Will return the game if any team will come here. Call or write W. G. Her, Rockport, Ky.

It is possible also that if Eve had been made from Adam's floating rib, woman would be less fond of dry goods.

RINGO CALLS FOR "LAW AND ORDER"

Throughout All Sections
Ohio County.

HIS ADDRESS TO GRAND JURY

Was a Masterly Effort In Behalf Of Peace and Good Government.

AN APPEAL FOR RIGHT LIVING

At the recent term of the Ohio Circuit Court, Commonwealth's Attorney Ben D. Ringo, in his instructions to the grand jury, made one of the greatest speeches of his official career. We wish we had space to print it all, but our crowded columns forbid this. After referring to various crimes, the gist of Mr. Ringo's magnificent address was as follows:

"I am going to put before you twelve gentlemen some important matters. I am going to do it first, because I am under oath of office, and I am going to do it in the next place because it is my pleasure to do it. If it is necessary to be done, I have uniformly believed that the conditions which existed west of us could not exist in Ohio county; I have never believed it was possible. If the reports that come to me are true—and I have no reason to doubt what I have heard—at a place in your county, and at a point where we would least expect it, there were some men and women sleeping in a negro cabin; they were negroes, it is true, but they were human beings, and you are pledged and the State is pledged as I am pledged to see that their lives are protected by law. A band of men got together and went to that quiet cabin and took these people out of it and marched them up a street in one of your villages, and a boy—a harmless negro boy, who never did any harm in his life as I am told—was murdered like a dog in the streets, and his bones are rotting in your soil to-day. You wouldn't have thought that was possible, would you? I wouldn't have thought so, either. You don't know the possibilities of the human heart until you test them out—until you take away all restraint the law imposes and turn loose all vicious passions to do their worst. You do not know how crazy men can get.

"I give you my word that when a man once gets to straggling away from the old land marks that he learned at his father's fireside and at his mother's knee; when a man once gets it in his head that the rules of life which bound his father and you and me, do not bind him; when he once concludes that he and a few other men can get together and can determine what the law is, and how it should be enforced, that is the beginning of hell for all kinds—here and hereafter—and that beginning has already occurred in your county.

"I would like for them to know and you to know, who may not know, the conditions which have arisen in counties that have tried that process, when men were as wise and just as you are to start with. There are spots in less than one day's ride of where you sit, where the land is as fertile as your own and where the grass is just as green, and the crops are as bountiful, where you could not get a dollar an acre for land that is there, if your buyer knew the conditions. There are spots in less than a day's ride of this court house where men and women with their boys and girls would not go at any price to make a home. That results from a mania or kind of insanity that I can not account for—except such mob psychology as gets hold of the people."

"It started away back yonder with certain walking delegates—agitators—who came from nobody knew where and went hellward, nobody knew where, who have gone on in their poisonous way. They taught good men to believe that there was a better way to run the country than to run it according to the law of the land. They taught men to throw off all the ties that bound them; and led men to think that they had rights which the law could not and would not enforce, and which could not be enforced in any way except in the ways they had pointed out—with clubs and torches. As a result of that, good men—well-meaning men, honorable men—really began to discuss whether it wasn't a pretty good thing for them to get together and decide, without any hearing, whether or not a man should be sewed up into a sack and rolled into the sea, or—what is the same thing substantially—whether he should be tied to a tree and whipped; and the shame of it, gentlemen of the grand jury, is that there are now going about the highways of your county, with bowed head and muffled heartbeats, men who have felt the marks of other men's hands on their backs in the night time—the cowardly assaults of men who had masks on their faces and hell in their hearts.

"Of course I assume that if the unfortunate victims of these wrongs should by some mischance ever know the man or any number of men, who went to a quiet home and took out a man and laid hands on him in violence, and left blood stains on his back, as I know has been done, I assume that if that victim knew who did it, the world would be too small to hold them both. If there be a hell—and I think there is—the probability is that one or the other of these men would find it shortly; but these poor victims do not know the coward who put a mask on his face and invaded the home of a sleeping victim, and in company with others who were also cowards, took that victim out and laid hands on him in violence.

"You say this is a country where liberty is granted by law to the citizen? That is either true or not true. It is true if the law is potent enough in the minds of honest men to make itself felt; but if the law becomes impotent, and if men become mere fishing worms, squirming in the dirt and twisting their bodies in shame and fear of mobs of men bound by some treasonable oath to what they conceive to be law unto themselves, then you no longer live in a land of liberty, or law. You live in a despotism a thousand times worse than exists in Russia or Turkey, and you know it, and I know it, and, as God is my judge, I would rather live under the dominion of one man whose word had power to send me to the mines of Siberia than to live under the despotic power of a band of lawless men who may take me out at their will and leave marks upon my back and my heart that would go with me to my grave. You tell me that there is any place in Ohio county for stuff like that? I do not believe it; I do not believe it!

"This is not a new experience with me. This country isn't going back to savagery or the government to failure, or anything like that; but some of these misguided men that used to be good men have wandered very far; and some of these days some of those men are going to face twelve fellows like you sitting there, and if I am on the job, and I think I will be, I am going to put some witnesses up here, and hear their story; and they are going to tell twelve men like you, not a schoolboy's dream; but they are going to tell you all a story that would make the czar of Russia hang his head with shame. And then twelve men—I do not mean chickens or worms, but men with courage—are going to walk out to that room and stay about fifteen minutes and then come back here, with something written on a piece of paper; and that something when it passes under the hand of the judge up there, is going to send some unfortunate defendant to a place which civilized men have built for that purpose; and somebody is going to feel the touch of a piece of copper right back here, while his legs and arms are strapped to a chair, and another man like you will reach over and pull a switch, and 2,200 volts of electricity will shoot through that man's body and a soul will go out to meet its God.

"If God spares me, and I hope he may, I hope to live to see the last stain of this business wiped from Ohio county; and there is only one way to do it. I grant that men may have their differences about a great many things, but when the right of unoffending citizens to their life and liberty are concerned, when freedom from mob violence is concerned, there are no two opinions among honorable men, and you and I know it.

"I have spoken plainly to you because I would hate myself if I didn't do it; I am not alarmed by these conditions; I have seen them before. It is a temporary aberration. These good people here are going to go back to the way of their fathers. I think there will be no more outlawry here where your fathers built their homes in this fair land. These homes were built on Faith, and rest still on faith—faith in God and faith in government. These things are vital. Your churches and your schoolhouses and your court house mean more than mere stacks of

GIANT ARMIES OF OLD GREAT BUNCHES OF MEN

Ancient Thebes. It is said, could send 10,000 fighting men out of each of its hundred gates.

Ninus, the Assyrian King, in the twenty-second century B. C., led against the Bactrians 1,700,000 soldiers on foot and 200,000 mounted.

The old historians credit Xerxes with land and sea forces counting up to 2,641,000, with enough attaches, hangers-on, women, sutlers, &c., to make a host of more than 5,000,000.

Artaxerxes had at one time, before the battle of Cunaxa, an army nearly a million and a quarter strong.

Darius of Persia brought more than a million soldiers to Arbela.

Tamermene is said to have met Bajazet's 1,400,000 with a force of 1,600,000.

Terah, King of Ethiopia, had a million soldiers to call to his standards.

Compared with the extended battle line of to-day in Europe, the array of forces at ancient Cana was but a skirmish formation. There were 86,000 Romans and allies against 70,000 Carthaginians.

Hannibal is recorded as having destroyed 300,000 men during his campaign in Italy. Just before his time that country could send a million men into the field.—[New York World.]

The little girl timidly asked the drug clerk for a package of pink dye. "What do you want it for?" responded the clerk. "Woolen or cotton goods?"

"Neither," said the child. "It's for ma's stomach. The doctors said she'd have to dye it (diet), and so she wants it a pretty color."

THE OHIO COUNTY MINERS CONDEMN

Acts Of Violence In Resolutions.

DECLARE VERY LIFE OF UNION

Organization Is Threatened By Its Reported Connection With Trouble.

APPEAL FOR LAW AND ORDER

At a picnic of union mine workers employed at the Williams and other mines in Ohio county, resolutions condemnatory of recent outrages in Ohio county were adopted. They were presented by Robert Pollock, president of District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America, and were as follows:

"Whereas, in Ohio and adjoining counties there have been in the last twelve months or more, many violations of law by organized bands of armed men and masked men making midnight raids into the homes of citizens, and many people have been whipped, beaten, terrorized and otherwise mistreated; and

"Whereas, it has been charged that said bands were made up in part or wholly from the members of the United Mine Workers of America; and

"Whereas, Whether these charges be true or untrue, they are endangering the very life of our union organization in Ohio county; and

"Whereas, Much disturbance and unrest has resulted among the people under these conditions; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by this convention of the United Mine Workers of America of Ohio county, assembled at the grove near Williams' mines, in Ohio county, Kentucky, on the 19th day of June, 1915, pursuant to a call of the district president, that United Mine Workers of America of Ohio county, Kentucky, realize the futility and hopelessness of fighting the battles of labor by acts of lawlessness, and we sincerely regret if any member of our organization has been misled into becoming a party to any such violation of law, and we call upon every man who is a friend to union labor to desist from all such acts of violence and declare all such acts to be in direct conflict with the interest of organized labor, and that all men who aid and assist in the commission of said unlawful acts are enemies to the real interest of the coal miners of Ohio county; and be it further

"Resolved, That we deplore the condition of lawlessness which has prevailed in our county for some time past, and condemn and disapprove any act of violence or lawlessness committed by any person or persons of whatever trade, profession or calling he may follow, or station in life he may occupy, and we declare that such methods as a means of relief against grievances, either real or imaginary, are utterly impracticable, useless and senseless, and cannot be defended on any ground whatever. Be it further

"Resolved, That it is the duty of every miner to guard the peace and happiness of his wife and children by standing always for an orderly and legal mode of securing his rights and redressing his wrongs, and that the United Mine Workers of America, if they wish to maintain the organization which has brought so many benefits to those who have worked in the mines, must stand for law and order and the exact fulfillment of all its contracts. Be it further

"Resolved, That it is the duty of each local to expel any member who advocates, encourages or organizes for any unlawful purpose, and we recommend that such a resolution be adopted and enforced by every local within our organization. We call upon the law-abiding miners of this county to unite to rid our organization of any men who would discredit us in the eyes of the people and State, and to stand now and always for peace and order and legal methods in securing our rights and redressing our wrongs; because in this way alone can we hope to make organized labor powerful enough to cope with those who wish to buy our labor at the lowest possible price."

WILL NOT SUFFER A CROP SHORTAGE

Peasants Of France Tilling the Soil,

IN SPITE OF WAR'S RAVAGES

A Normal Acreage Is Now In Good State Of Cultivation.

RURAL POPULATION AT HOME

(By George Dufresne.) Paris, June 26.—The official report on agriculture in France just published reveals that the peasants of France who have contributed by far the greatest number of soldiers now fighting against the Germans from the North to the Swiss frontier, have still been able to till their fields as if we were in the midst of peace.

The official statistics show that on May 1, 1915, as many acres of French soil uncultivated by the enemy were in a state of cultivation as on the same date last year, a fact which means that the crop of grain and other agricultural products in France probably will be normal in size.

M. Guyon, one of the inspectors of agriculture, with whom I had a talk a few days ago, and who had visited every village and hamlet in the department of the Marne, said that he was quite unable to find words to express his admiration of the peasants of these districts, which less than ten months ago were devastated by the Germans, which to-day give every promise of abundant crops. There are thousands of ruined homesteads but not one single neglected field.

"If our brave soldiers have won the admiration of the world," he said, "the rural population—the old men, women and children—who have remained at home are entitled to no less praise."

"Everybody who has had an opportunity to pass through the war zone, has been impressed by the splendid qualities of the French peasants. I have seen them myself calmly working in their fields planting and sowing within a hundred metres of the rear trenches, and wherever ground has been occupied by our soldiers it has immediately been put under the plow.

"It is especially near the bombarded and destroyed villages, of which there are only too many in the districts where the battle of the Marne was fought, from Meaux to Esternay, Fere-Champenoise, Reims and Vitry-le-Francois, that you are impressed by the tenacity, endurance and splendid qualities of the tillers of the soil. In many places there is not a single house left that is fit to live in and the peasants during the time of the first invasion lost everything but what they carried on their persons. Their horses and cattle were killed or driven off, their implements were destroyed, their houses pillaged and set on fire and even their fields were ruined by the passage of heavy artillery and the digging of a maze of trenches.

"One had reason to fear that these peasants, who had been robbed of everything, might have abandoned their fields and sought refuge with their brethren in more fortunate districts until the war was over, but such a thing happened nowhere. As soon as the enemy had been driven back, old men, women and children returned to work and began cultivating their fields, to which they are so strongly attached, and in a few weeks no trace of the war was visible. The fields wore their usual aspect but for the thousands of crosses that mark the last resting places of our fallen heroes."

HEBER MATTHEWS, FRANK L. FELIX,
EDITORS
FRANK L. FELIX, Pub. and Prop'r.

Entered at the Hartford post-office as mail matter of the second class.

Everyone interested in the matter should attend the Good Roads meeting to be held at the opera house in Beaver Dam next Friday afternoon. It will be held under the auspices of the Ohio County Medical Society, which deserves much credit for this forward movement, but everybody, regardless of profession or calling, should be interested in this vital matter. Ohio county certainly needs good roads and a concerted movement is the only thing which will accomplish this very desirable object.

County pride. If nothing more, should insure Judge J. S. Glenn the largest majority August 7th ever given a Democrat in a primary in Ohio county. As has been heretofore said, he is thoroughly qualified for the position he seeks and as this is the first and possibly the last chance Ohio county will have, in many years to come, to furnish the Circuit Judge for this district, the Democrats of Ohio county should, and we believe will, take advantage of the opportunity now given to secure this honor.

Indications are that there will be a hard tussle between the liquor and anti-liquor forces at the approaching session of Congress. When the liquor men pressed the Hobson resolution to a vote at the last session, knowing full well that it would not pass, they thought they had the matter settled, but they later awoke to their mistake. The question of national prohibition is now more a Congressional issue than ever, and is looming up as one of the biggest matters that will have to be met when our national lawmakers assemble again.

If the county officers will only continue their efforts to abolish the blind tigers and bootleggers of Hartford and vicinity and be as zealous in this work as the recent grand jury was in abolishing the alleged "possum hunters," the good name of our county will be preserved and her citizens greatly pleased. The supremacy of the law should be upheld and violators brought to certain justice. Too long has Hartford borne the name of being right on the edge of blind tiger operations. Every good citizen should aid in removing this stigma.

It seems hard to make some people understand that a fellow can be a prohibitionist and a strict temperance man, both in practice and voting, and not be for State-wide prohibition. They seem not to consider the political aspect of the situation, especially as it now appears in this State. They center the whole idea in the race for Governor, when in reality the latter will have nothing whatever to do with this sort of legislation. The General Assembly alone will decide this question. And who knows how the legislative candidates stand in this matter?

In withdrawing from the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, Mr. J. W. Newman says in canvass of different sections of the State has convinced him that the people who are opposed to State-wide prohibition are for "the wettest of the wets" while those who are for the proposition are for "the drierest of the dries." In these deductions Mr. Newman is very much mistaken. There are many true temperance men and prohibitionists against State-wide and its agitation at this time. They consider it more a subterfuge to get votes than anything else.

The grand jury of the recent term of the Ohio Circuit Court was certainly a thorough-going body of men. It left a name as one of the best grand juries that ever filled the panel here. It returned over one hundred indictments, considerably over half of which were for alleged "possum hunting." Evidently its members, inspired by the strong language of Commonwealth's Attorney Ben Ringo, were determined to wipe out this stain that has sullied the good name of our county. Would that all our grand juries would be just as zealous as the recent one.

State-wide and anti-State-wide prohibition is yet being agitated in Democratic circles and the question is still being held over the heads of the little bunch of gubernatorial candidates with no regard whatever to the opinions of the dozens of legislative candidates, who will be the ones who will really have the matter in hand when the question comes up for settlement. Few people seem to have taken into consideration the fact that State-wide prohibition will or will not become a fact, no matter who is elected Governor this year.

It is sad indeed to reflect back upon the world's history in the matter of war. Far back in the remote and fathomless era of time men were engaged in the business of killing each other. Many kings led countless thousands to slaughter. The old earth has been virtually soaked with the blood of the fellow beings who inhabited it, spilled at the behest of warring powers. The pale moon, whose age nobody knows, has looked down upon the whitened bones of billions of slain soldiers, crumbling to the dust from which they came. And still at intervals the frightful slaughter goes on. Judging from this bloody record it would seem that a world-peace is improbable, but let us hope it is not so.

There is a concerted movement to introduce into the legislatures of several States a measure which shall create the office of Public Defender in each and every county. It is a more worthy movement than many that are now being put forward for the alleged benefit of the public. This official would be paid by the State and his official duties would parallel those of the county and Commonwealth's Attorneys, being in behalf of the accused. He would not on the line that every accused man is supposed to be innocent until he is proven guilty. It would seem that the public has as much right to a defender when one of their number is accused, as they would to a prosecutor. The idea at least deserves logical attention.

Among the men prominent in the liquor industry of Kentucky, who were present at the Republican State convention, or within touch of the convention and its movements were the following:

LIQUOR MEN PROMINENT IN REPUBLICAN AFFAIRS

Lawrence Reichert, representing the Frank Fehr Brewing Company, of Louisville.

John Klockner, representing the Wiedemann Brewing Company, of Newport.

Dick Dehoney, representing Herman Brothers, wholesale liquor dealers and distillers, of Louisville.

Edmund Taylor, of E. H. Taylor & Sons, distillers, of Frankfort.

Harry Meyers, of Covington, recognized representative of the liquor people in the House at Frankfort last winter and their leader on the floor.

Wood G. Dunlap, of the Old Pepper Distillery, of Lexington.—[Lexington Herald.]

DR. CHERRY'S STAND ON STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

When Dr. Cherry withdrew from the primary race for Governor he made some statements on the temperance question that it is well for all to bear in mind, and re-read again and again.

They come from a sterling Democrat, and a sterling advocate of true temperance.

Dr. Cherry says: "No man who knows me doubts for one moment my loyalty to the temperance cause. I never failed to give money and my support for its promotion."

"I took the position that it would be better for the cause of temperance to operate under the county unit law, which in its present form is but a little over a year old, than it would be to abandon it at this time for State-wide prohibition."

"There are thousands and thousands of noble temperance workers who believe as I do, and who are today resisting State-wide prohibition in the interest of temperance, and are regretting that efforts are being made to make it an issue during this campaign."

Just Watch Gabe.

The Germantown News, June 24th, had the following to say regarding the race of Ohio county's candidate for Secretary of State:

"With a host of friends at his back, Gabe Likens is making a lively race for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. The winner generally shows as soon as the runners turn into the home stretch. You just watch Gabe!"

When European War Began.

The first declaration of war in the present European conflict was that of Austria-Hungary on Serbia, on July 28, 1914. On August 1, 1914, Germany declared war on Russia, and on August 4 on France. On the same day Great Britain declared war on Germany, and Germany began war on Belgium without formal declaration. The other declarations were as follows: August 6, Austria-Hungary on Russia; August 10, France on Austria-Hungary; August 23, Japan on Germany; October 29, Turkey on Russia; May 23, 1915, Italy against Austria.

JOINT SPEAKING AT UTICA AND RED HILL

By Candidates For Circuit Judge
—Judge W. W. Owen Presided As Chairman.

Judge J. S. Glenn and Judge T. F. Birkhead met in joint debate at Utica, Daviess county, Kentucky, Saturday afternoon, June 26th, and also at Red Hill schoolhouse at night. Each spoke in behalf of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in this district.

About 150 voters attended the speaking at Utica, Judge W. W. Owen, of Owensboro, Kentucky, presided as chairman of the meeting at Utica and introduced each of the speakers. He paid a nice compliment to our fellow townsman, Judge Glenn, and to the Democrats of Ohio county. He said that he had stood by Daviess county's candidate for this office loyally in the past and predicted that Judge Glenn would find the Democrats of Daviess county in this contest equally as generous and that a majority of them would support him in his race for this nomination. Some 30 or more voters attended the meeting at Red Hill at night. At each of the places mentioned both speakers were accorded a respectful hearing but it was manifest that a large majority of those present were favorable to Judge Glenn.

At each of the meetings Judge Glenn put a number of pointed questions to Judge Birkhead and called on him to answer them in his speech. One of the questions was, whether or not he, (Judge Birkhead) did not promise the people that if he were elected by them to the office of Circuit Judge for two successive terms he would not become a candidate for this office for the third term. This particular question seemed to cause Judge Birkhead much embarrassment as did the other questions propounded to him. He evaded the question by saying that he did not remember all that he promised the people on the occasion of his being a candidate for this office; that speaking figuratively he was then like a hungry calf on the outside of a fertile pasture bawling to get in; that then he was on the outside looking in but that now he is on the inside looking out. Judge Glenn in reply stated that he thought the calf referred to by Judge Birkhead needed a change of pasture and that twelve successive years grazing in one fertile field ought to be enough.

Judge Birkhead also stated that he thought experience better qualified one for the office of Circuit Judge and that for this reason the Democrats in this district ought to give him the nomination for this office. Judge Glenn met this argument by saying that sometimes it is the case that one long continued in the same office, becomes more or less careless and indifferent to the duties of the office, and that the work sometimes grows monotonous and irksome; that he fails to give the same care and consideration to his work as when first inducted into the office. He said further that in the instant case the record discloses that during the first twelve months when the cases decided by Judge Birkhead were first passed upon by the Court of Appeals that 48.39% of the cases decided by Judge Birkhead were affirmed while 51.61% were reversed and that during the past six months of the present year only 36.40% of the cases decided by Judge Birkhead and passed on by the Court of Appeals were affirmed while 63.60% of the cases decided by him during this time were reversed by that Court.

A number of Judge Glenn's friends from this place, some of his friends from Owensboro and other points attended the speaking at Utica. He returned home Saturday night after the speaking at Red Hill. He left this place Monday morning for Owensboro and arrangements will be made for other speaking appointments in Daviess county for the present week to all of which, we are informed, Judge Birkhead will be invited.

COMMISSIONER NEWMAN OUT OF GOVERNOR'S RACE

Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman has withdrawn from the primary race for the Democratic nomination for Governor and gave out a statement, setting forth his reasons. The main points of Mr. Newman's statement are as follows:

"A canvass of different sections of the State has convinced me that the people who are opposed to State-wide prohibition are for the 'wettest of the wets' and that those who are for State wide prohibition are for the 'drierest of the dries,' and should I remain in the race and a 'wet' man win the nomination, and should the combined vote of the other 'dry' candidate and myself exceed his vote, the 'dry' voters would have ground for claiming that the successful candidate did not represent the wishes of a majority of the voters in the Democratic party. It has always been a fundamental principle of Democracy for the minority to submit to the will of the majority. With two extreme candidates and a free fight and a fair count, there can be no excuse whatever for any Democrat to bolt any 'after the primary convention,' that writes a platform embodying the views of the successful candidate."

BASE HALL.

Central City won from Hartford Saturday by a score of 3 to 1. The game was lost by bad support given Rickard, as he only allowed four hits.

Madisonville won from Central City at the latter place Sunday. Score 3 to 1.

The biggest games of the season will be at East End Park Saturday, July 3d, and Monday, July 5th, between the Oertels, of Louisville, and our home boys.

Don't fail to see Eastwood Harper work for the strong Louisville team. Rickard will work in the first game against Louisville and Withrow in the second.

You can't afford to miss the game Saturday and Monday against the Louisville Oertels.

Take July 3d and 5th at East End Park and enjoy two of the best ball games of the season.

Meet us at East End Park July 3d and 5th at 2:30. Root for us and help us win two games from Louisville.

THE BALL CLUB.

Good Roads.

The Ohio County Medical Society will organize a good roads club at Beaver Dam Opera House, Beaver Dam, Ky., on Friday, July 2d, at 2 p. m. There will be several speakers present to make talks, and we want everyone interested in good roads to be there on that date. We also want every automobile in Ohio county to be there. The object of this meeting will be to better the condition of the roads and keep in line with the rapid progress of good roads.

Slept One Year.

Columbus, Ohio, June 26.—After sleeping almost continuously for one year, Henry Mankey, a trooper during the Civil War, died here tonight. Physicians say the case is without parallel in medical annals. Mankey was 74 years old. The long sleep was held to be due to an injury.

Pic-Nic Shooting.

Louie Barrett, who shot and dangerously wounding Clarence Taylor at a colored pic-nic near Horton last Saturday, was arrested by the Jailor and brought to town Saturday evening, where he was arraigned before Judge Wilson, who fixed his bond at $1,000. In default of bail he was remanded to jail and the examining trial set for yesterday. On the calling of the case yesterday game was continued to the 7th day of July, on account of the prosecuting witness, Taylor, not being able to come to court. The bond was reduced to $500, but the defendant failed to execute same and was again taken to jail. Taylor is said to be in a dangerous condition.

Death Chair Awaits Two.

Frankfort, Ky., June 28.—A double execution will take place at the Eddyville prison July 13. Will Lane, who killed his wife at Pineville, on February 2, 1914, and Turner Graham, Jr., slayer of Sheriff Robert McMurtry, of Hardin county, will be electrocuted. Governor McCreary signed the death warrants to-day.

Germans in United States.

The total number of Germans in the United States, including those born in Germany and those born in the United States, one or both of whose parents were born in Germany, is 8,817,271, of which 2,759,032 were born in Germany. This is according to the 1910 census.

If the truth could be discovered probably it would be found that women voters are not more inclined to vote for the handsomest candidate than men jurors are to acquit the pretty defendant.

Way-side Chat.

"There's a good deal in this Southern hospitality."

"Is that so?"

"Yes; they gimme eight months for vagrancy in New Orleans. I never got more than sixty days in the North."

AN ORGANIZATION IS BEING FORMED

By the Friends Of Judge T. F. Birkhead.

HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIX

DEMOCRATS HAVE MEETING

REPRESENT EVERY PRECINCT

Getting Ready For the Primary

Election To Be Held In August.

One hundred and thirty-six prominent Democrats from Ohio, McLean, Hancock and Daviess counties met in the office of Attorneys George S. Wilson and H. A. Birkhead Friday afternoon for the purpose of effecting an organization for the nomination of Judge T. F. Birkhead as Circuit Judge in the August primary. There was a representative from every voting precinct in the four counties. There was no mistaking the information of the representatives to the meeting. They were the bone and sinew of the party organization over the district. Judge Birkhead was present at the meeting and expressed gratification over the large number of his friends being in attendance.—[Owensboro Messenger.]

THE SUBMARINE AS IT AFFECTS OUR COUNTRY

The Chicago Tribune makes a good point with reference to the submarine.

"It calls attention to the fact that we may be using the submarines quite extensively in the future and we had better go slow in making rules that might later rise up and plague us."

Here is the Tribune's comment:

"A practical consideration of State policy must deal with our own interest in the effective employment of the submarine. Conceding that we shall not embark upon a war of conquest, the submarine as an agency of defense, and one which our mechanical genius can perfect and multiply at minimum expense, is perhaps of greater importance to us than to any nation on the globe. Among the great powers, our least improbable opponents in a future war would be England, Germany or Japan. Each must operate against us across the sea, establishing its possible, bases in this hemisphere; England in Canada and her Atlantic islands, Germany upon such footing as she can win, Japan perhaps in Lower California. This involves transport of munitions of war across the sea. If the present situation is reversed and neutral merchantmen are employed to keep our enemy replenished, are we bound to forego the use of the submarine to interrupt or destroy this current of supply?

"In staking our position as to submarine warfare, let us be careful lest the hand of the future be bound by the word of to-day."

RALPH.

June 26.—Quarterly meeting was held here Monday night and Tuesday by the Presiding Elder, Bro. J. T. Rushing, of Owensboro. A large crowd was in attendance.

Mr. C. M. Patton, of Adaburg, and his niece, Miss Lenthel Patton, of this place, will leave Sunday morning for a visit to Mr. C. L. Patton and family, of Newburg, Ind., and Mrs. Sarah F. Ralph, of Evansville, Ind.

Mrs. J. C. Ralph and son visited relatives at Deanfield Friday.

Miss Lara Westerfield, of Magna, was the guest of Miss Dona Ralph Monday night.

Master Wendell Ralph visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ralph, near Oklahoma, Tuesday night.

The friends and relatives of Mrs. Dnn Foreman gave her a splendid birthday dinner Sunday, June 29. A very large crowd was present.

Mrs. Beauchamp Against Machine.

The Ashland Independent says Mrs. Frances C. Beauchamp, President of the State W. T. C. U., says that the organization has not been consulted as to details of the "dry" campaign.

Mrs. Beauchamp said that in a recent tour of the State she found many who had taken offense at the manner of the "dry" organization, and although personally favoring State-wide prohibition, would not support the party faction which was making State-wide prohibition its issue.

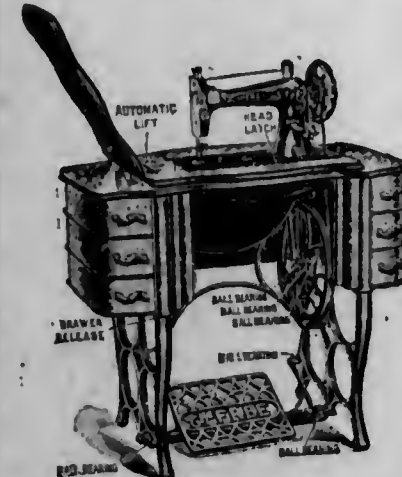

The month of June has been prominent in Kentucky history—admitted as a State, and the first Legislature met June 4, 1792; 1st Governor, Isaac Shelby.

cts. net, clear after paying expenses.

The report seems to have gotten out that Prof. McHenry Rhoads would not be here at the Teachers'
Institute next week, but a letter from him dated Monday says he certainly will be here and speak next Monday night. Prof. U. C. Barnett, the instructor of the Institute, is an old Ohio county boy, was born within two miles of Hartford and edu-sad hour.

Mr. F. B. Tichenor, a prominent citizen of Centertown, died early Saturday morning of softening of the brain, and was buried Saturday evening by the Masons. He leaves a wife and daughter. He was 51 years old.

The prosperity of a county or community is gauged in a great measure by the soundness and good standing of its financial institutions.
In this issue of The Herald appear the statements of Ohio county banks, all of which make a splendid showing.

Messrs. L. G. Weller, Olaton, R.

Mrs. E. B. Pendleton. Mother and child were getting along nicely yesterday.

Col. C. M. Barnett, of Hartford, has announced for Railroad Commissioner in the First District, and Attorney C. E. Smith, of the local bar, has announced for Comm-wealth's Attorney in this Judicial District. Both are subject to the action of the Republicans at the August primary.

Miss Nancy Ford entertained at a lawn fete at her home on Main street last Friday evening in honor of Miss Ruth Miller, of Owensboro, who is visiting her. Light refreshments and punch were served to about fifty. A most delightful evening was reported.

Judge J. S. Glenn, who is conducting his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Court Judge of this district, spent Sunday with his family here. Judge Glenn is delighted with the reception he is receiving in Davless county, where he has been campaigning the past ten days.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Felix, who has been taking a special course in music at the New England Conservatory, Boston, will return to her home in Hartford, Ky., with her brother, Douglas D. Felix, who recently graduated in law from Yale.
Miss Felix graduated from National Park Seminary, Washington, last year, taking first honors in a class of fifty-seven. [Courier-Journal.]

Mr. Douglas D. Felix, who has been attending the law department of Yale University, New Haven, Conn., for the past two years, having entered as a Junior from the Kentucky State University, in the fall of 1913, graduated on June 23d, being one of five out of a large class, graduating with special honors, arrived home yesterday afternoon. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Felix, who had been taking a special course in instrumental and vocal music at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., the past year.

Mother Suicides.
Mrs. A. R. Ransom, living near Cromwell, Ky., killed herself some time Saturday night, although her body was not found until Monday morning, about two miles from home, in an old barn. She first took laudanum and wandered away and later it was discovered she had cut her throat with a butcher knife.
She leaves a husband and four children. One of her children died a few weeks ago and it is supposed that brooding over this sad affair caused her to commit the rash act.

Special Session Of Fiscal Court.
The Ohio County Fiscal Court, all members being present, convened here in call session Monday. Among other things considered, the plans and specifications for the pike on the Hartford and Centertown road were approved and the pike will be built to the end of the Miller lane.
The exact location or route of the road was not determined, but deferred to be passed upon at the regular meeting beginning July 12th. Court adjourned yesterday.

THE MOONSHINER AND HIS CALLING

Positively Not On the Decline and
HE CANNOT BE STAMPED OUT
Each Year Brings Up About the Same Old Number Of Cases.

IS A PICTURESQUE CHARACTER

It has been said that the Kentucky Colonel is the only picturesque figure in Dixie that does not vanish with the years, owing to the fact that when a dignified gentleman of the Blue Grass State comes booming up into his forties, the title of "Colonel" falls upon him naturally.

The Federal Court of the Northern District of Georgia, which is in session in Atlanta now, has a record for "moonshine" cases which indicates that at least one more character of extremely picturesque qualities is perennial.

Whether or not it is to the credit of Northern Georgia, that mountain section is probably more prolific of illicit distillers of whiskey than any other section of the country.

Furthermore, Judge William T. Newman is hearing at the present term of Court just as many cases as he has heard at any term of Court in the last 10 years.

This is quite as true of the Federal Courts of the mountain districts of other Southern States. Each year the number may grow or fall off, but the average remains about the same.

Here are the comparative figures upon the number of convictions, as contained in the report of the District Attorneys in 1911 and 1914, the convictions being for the year preceding the date of the report:

District.	1910.	1913.
Georgia, Northern	244	369
Tennessee, Eastern	110	10
North Carolina, Western	70	3
Kentucky, Eastern	282	305
Alabama, Northern	64	70

Thus it is that, every month or so, year in and year out, these rugged mountaineers from the Allegheny hills come trooping down to the Atlanta Federal Prison to pay the penalty for their violation of the law.

The "moonshiner" is probably the most conscienceless lawbreaker upon the face of the earth. The matter of making "corn likker" to him is business purely. He makes "moonshine" in a mountain ravine six days in the week and on Sunday takes his family to church with his conscience as free as the blue sky above him.

And his point of view is not so far wrong, perhaps. The rules of society are no broader than a day's communication. To make illicit whiskey lays no stain upon the respectability of the "moonshiner" among his own people. His conviction is not for making whiskey, but for refusing to pay a tax for so doing. Because whiskey is not considered a necessity of life, the Government has chosen a barrel of whiskey rather than a barrel of flour upon which to place a tax.

The "moonshiner" feels that he is no more guilty of a violation of law than the city property owner who returns his property at less than its value. He feels that the difference is that the property owner pretends that he has complied with the law, while the "moonshiner" says "catch me if you can."

It would not be surprising if the solution of the "moonshiner" problem should lie in better means of transportation and a thorough understanding of advanced methods of agriculture. The mountain lands are not fertile. The "moonshiner" raises a crop of corn of inferior quality which will bring a poor price on the market after he has hauled it by wagon over many miles of bad road to a railroad station. If he condenses a sack of corn to a jug of whiskey he solves his transportation problem and doubles the income from his product.

These seem to be the main reasons why the "moonshiner" is always with us.

There are, however, occasional whiskeys about the corridors of the Federal Courts which attract one's attention for a moment. A "moonshiner" with scarce clothes enough to cover his back is convicted and his still is destroyed. He serves his term and goes back to the hills. Shortly he is captured again with a brand-new still. A distilling outfit, even of the "moonshiner's" crude sort, costs money. Where does that money come from?

And here is another whisper—ever, ever so faint:

When the "moonshiner" is eradicated, what will the poor revenue officer do for a living?

Whatever may be the reason, the "moonshiner" is not on the decline, and he is a picturesque character, that one cannot altogether hate and cannot altogether stamp with the blackness of the common criminal. —[Atlanta Cor. Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

THE CHAMPION TOMATO GROWER MAKES RECORD

Frankfort, Ky., June 26.—Miss Lottie Luckett, of Bancroft, Muhlenberg county, is the champion tomato grower of the State, and won the State champion trophy, a handsome silver pitcher offered by the Department of Agriculture. On one-tenth of an acre of ground Miss Luckett raised 4,857 pounds of tomatoes which, when canned, filled 1,340 jars. For her entire crop Miss Luckett received $272. The cost of production was $67.15, making a profit of $204.85.

The contest was conducted by the Girls' Canning Club, organized in 13 counties. Mrs. Helen B. Wolcott, of Shelbyville, who is at the head of the Girls' Canning Club, has organized clubs in 24 counties this year.

The average net profit of the girls who participated in the contest last year was $31.29 on a one-tenth acre.

EMPEROR WILLIAM TO O. K. ALL EXECUTIONS

Amsterdam, June 26, (via London).—Every sentence of death by a court-martial in Belgium must hereafter be indorsed by Emperor William before the prisoners are executed, according to a telegram received to-day by the Tyd from its correspondent at Maastricht.

The writer of the dispatch intimates that Emperor William telegraphed these instructions on learning that eight citizens of Liege had been executed for alleged espionage and that twenty others were in prison charged with the same offense.

There was great anxiety as to the probable fate of the twenty until Emperor William's order was posted alongside the list of names of those who already had been shot.

Tired, Aching Muscles Relieved.
Hard work, over-exertion, mean stiff, sore muscles. Sloan's Liniment lightly applied, a little quiet, and your soreness disappears like magic. "Nothing ever helped like your Sloan's Liniment. I can never thank you enough," writes one grateful user. Stops suffering, aches and pains. An excellent counter-irritant, better and cleaner than mustard. All druggists, 25c. Get a bottle to-day. Penetrates without rubbing. (Advertisement)

And Then He Died!
An old man, jealous of his pretty young wife, says Charles Johnston in "Why the World Laughs," fell ill of a mortal disease. Knowing that his case was hopeless he said to his wife:

"You know, my dear, that I can not escape this deadly sickness; what I beg of you is that you will not marry that friend of mine, who often comes to the house, and of whom I have been somewhat jealous."

"Dear husband," replied she, "I could not if I would, for I am already engaged to somebody else."

If you have the itch, don't scratch. It does not cure the trouble and makes the skin bleed. Apply Ballard's Snow Liniment. Rub it in gently on the affected parts. It relieves itching instantly and a few applications remove the cause, thus forming a permanent cure. Price 25c. 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, Ky. Out Of Danger.
Signs of the coming cyclone were in the air. The terrified villagers rushed for places of safety.

When the storm had swept by there emerged from the wreckage a man whose fearless attitude showed that he had been immune from the cyclone's fury.

"Where did you hide?" asked the less fortunate ones.

"Over in the public library in one of the six best sellers," he replied, nonchalantly, lighting a cigarette.

MANY SICK FOLKS DIE NEEDLESSLY

While They Are Searching For Health.

HINT TO THOSE NEEDING IT

The National Tuberculosis Association Tells Who Should Go West.

FREE INFORMATION IS GIVEN

From 10,000 to 15,000 consumptives go West in search of health every year. Such is an estimate made by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in a statement issued last week based on recent investigations of the United States Public Health Service. The Association concludes that there are at present between 100,000 and 200,000 consumptives in the States of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Colorado.

Investigations were made during the past year by Surgeons of the United States Public Health Service, P. M. Carlington in California, E. A. Sweet in Texas and New Mexico, and A. D. Foster in North and South Carolina. The National Association draws the following conclusions from these studies:

1. Thousands of consumptives attracted by the climate migrate every year to the West and Southwest. While no definite figures can be procured, the facts ascertained would indicate an annual migration of at least 10,000 and possibly 15,000 into the States of California, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

2. From 30 to 50 per cent of these consumptives are hopeless cases and die within six months after their arrival, the percentage of those dying within 30 days running as high as 15.

3. A large but unknown percentage die in almshouses or are the recipients of charity, and the great majority of these could have been made comfortable in their last days if they had stayed at home among friends and relatives.

4. From 40 to 90 per cent of all deaths from tuberculosis in the West and Southwest are of natives of other States, nearly 50 per cent coming from Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and New York.

5. People who can afford it and who are not in too far advanced stages of tuberculosis will find the climate of the West and Southwest an aid in the treatment of tuberculosis.

6. No one should think of going West or Southwest for his health unless he has at least $1,000 above his railroad fare, and can leave his family in comfortable circumstances; and no one should go who is in an advanced stage of tuberculosis or who has not taken careful medical advice.

7. Tuberculosis can be cured in any part of the United States, and it is far better for a consumptive of moderate means, such as the average workman, to go to a sanatorium near at home, than to go West and live in a more favorable climate without proper food or medical care.

8. Finally, there may be plenty of jobs in the West and Southwest for able-bodied men, but the consumptive will find the greatest difficulty in getting work, and no one

Your Attention, Please

I have brought the celebrated Stallion Walnut Grove Chief No. 4631, back to Centertown, Ky., for the remainder of the season, which is only a short time.

This was a special request of my friend Mr. Rowe and others who have some good mares that they desired to breed to a No. 1 Saddle and Harness horse, and I think he is the best breeder I have ever handled.

Walnut Grove Chief will only be here for a short time, after which he will be shipped to Letchfield, Ky., to Mr. James Cooper, of Whitesville, Ky., and be prepared for the fall shows. He will be a contender for some of the big stakes this season. If you have a good mare and want to breed her to a good one, call or write me at once. Fee $15.00 to insure living foal.

Yours respectfully,

HERMITS.

Two cupsful brown sugar, one cupful butter, one-half cupful milk, one-third cupful almonds, one cupful raisins, one teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful nutmeg, one egg, flour.

Carefully cream the sugar and butter, add the well-beaten egg and the soda dissolved in the milk. To this, add enough flour to roll out well. Sift in the cinnamon and nutmeg and stir in the chopped and floured raisins and chopped almonds. Roll out in oblongs and bake.—[Pictorial Review.]

The July American.

The most striking and important article in the July American Magazine is an article entitled "Lord Kitchener's Great Bluff," in which is told for the first time the news that England has secretly raised an army four times as big as she has admitted—in other words, 4,000,000 instead of 1,000,000. The author of the article is J. Herbert Duckworth, an Englishman, who, for about ten years, has lived in New York City where he has been engaged in journalism. When the war broke out last summer he went to England where he remained through the fall and winter. While there he came confidentially into possession of the facts which he now publishes. No English journal has published the truth in regard to the matter and few Englishmen have even known the facts. Mr. Duckworth has been unwilling, until now, to publish what he has known for several months.

Presidential Age.

"Will there ever be a woman President?"

"No. The Constitution says the President must be over forty-five years old, and women don't get that old."

IT'S SURPRISING

That So Many Hartford People Fail To Recognize Kidney Weakness.

Are you a bad back victim? Suffer twinges, headaches, dizzy spells?

Go to bed tired—get up tired? It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.

It's surprising how few know what to do.

Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Have convinced Hartford people of their merit.

Here's a Hartford case; Hartford testimony.

Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.

Daniel King, Hartford, Ky., says: "I suffered intensely from pains in my sides and in the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used by friends with such fine results that I thought I would try them. I got them at the Ohio County Drug Co., and one box permanently cured me."

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave
Up in Despair. Husband
Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Belle Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

LABOR LEADER IS AMONG THE TESTIFIERS

Charles Peetz Tells How Tanlac Brought Him Ready Relief.

Louisville, Ky., June 28.—Here is what Charles Peetz, prominent labor leader, of 101 West Market street, this city, has to say about Tanlac, the premier preparation, and the benefits he derived from the use of the medicine:

"I have been in a half-sick condition for months. I was all run-down, nervous, and had no appetite. My stomach was out of order and my digestion was bad. I often had headaches and was depressed in spirits.

"I find that Tanlac just exactly suits my case. After using the medicine about a week or ten days, my appetite and digestion are much better. I now sleep better and feel stronger in every way."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, that proved such a boon to Mr. Peetz and hundreds of others in Louisville and Kentucky, is now being taken with the most beneficial results by many of our citizens right here in Hartford. It is an excellent spring tonic, blood purifier and tissue builder.

Tanlac can be obtained in Hartford at Ohio County Drug Co., Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, and L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown. (Advertisement) house, a jar of last summer's preserves, a loaf of homemade bread and a pitcher of milk form a meal that any country woman can offer a guest, with a minimum of labor and a maximum of pleasure for the guest. Don't let us superimpose city fashions upon the country table."

OUR FLAG 138 YEARS OLD—MORE AGED THAN ANY

The Star-Spangled Banner is many years older than the flag of any of the nations now at war. Today this beautiful tri-color which was designed under the direction of the Father of His Country, assumes two of the virtues of the great Washington—First in Peace and First in the Hearts of all Americans.

The one hundred and thirty-eighth birthday of the flag comes when the nation is passing through one of the crises of its life. It is a time which reveals all of the more than 100,000,000 Americans united as one man for the defense and protection of the honor of the sacred emblem.

Next Monday will be no ordinary birthday celebration. Every true American will celebrate the day as it ought to be celebrated, by displaying on coat lapel, from window and from house-top the glorious banner of a free and peace-loving people, united and unafraid.—[New York Herald.

A Handicap.

An old gentleman who has lived more than eighty years, walked recently from Hubbardston to Carson City. When he arrived at Carson City an acquaintance greeted him warmly:

"You walked all the way?" the friend exclaimed. "How did you get along?"

"Oh, first rate," the old man replied. "That is until I came to that sign south of town that says to slow down to eight miles an hour. That kept me back some."

A Good Household Salve.

Ordinary ailments and injuries are not of themselves serious, but infection or low vitality may make them dangerous. Don't neglect a cut, sore, bruise or hurt because it's small. Blood poison has resulted from a pin-prick or scratch. For all such ailments Bucklen's Arnica Salve is excellent. It protects and heals the hurt; is antiseptic, kills infection and prevents dangerous complications. Good for all skin blemishes, pimples, salt rheum, eczema. ## AMERICA'S WISHES WILL BE GRANTED IN NOTE

Containing Germany's Reply In Regard To Submarine War- fare Of Teutons.

Berlin, via London, June 26.—There are good prospects that the forthcoming German note to the United States will go a long way toward meeting the American Government's wishes regarding Germany's conduct of submarine warfare and making passenger traffic on the high seas safe.

While it is stated that submarine action against hostile merchantmen will not and cannot be abandoned entirely, it is increasingly probable that the German note will embody some proposals to exempt ships employed wholly or principally in passenger traffic from submarine attack.

Such ships, it is said, would of course be subject to stoppage and examination by submarines in accordance with the practice in vogue prior to the present war, and to capture if carrying contraband, but the regular rules of the prize law, particularly regarding the safety of passengers and crews, would be observed.

It is hoped here that such a solution will satisfy the requirements of President Wilson's note. It is hoped and expected here, among those who are working for a friendly settlement of the situation between Germany and the United States, that the United States would see that such passenger ships were not used to transport ammunition and guns, nor lend themselves to attacks upon submarines.

OLATON.

June 28.—Dr. Parrish's two sisters, of Tobinsort, Ind., who had been visiting him here for the past ten days, have returned home.

Robert Arms has purchased an automobile.

The quarterly meeting at Cedar Grove was well attended.

Wheat threshing is the order now in this vicinity.

Alice Murphy is improving. Mrs. Luther Kinsinger is yet very ill.

Miss Myrtle E. Canan is visiting relatives and friends at Sulphur Springs.

The recent rise in Coney creek destroyed a lot of corn in the bottoms.

Presiding Elder, Rev. Sheffield, took supper with J. H. Canan Sunday evening. He was on his way to Louisville, where he resides. He held the quarterly meeting at Cedar Grove, with the assistance of circuit rider, Rev. Huntsman.

There will certainly be something doing in Hartford in August from the list of indictments reported.

BENNETT'S.

June 27.—There is a protracted meeting going on at Edwards church, conducted by Rev. E. M. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tatum and two children, of Simmons, visited Mr. T. H. Tatum and family Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Estlin Austin and children, of near Ricketts, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wallace Sunday.

Little Miss Edith Tatum, of Simmons, is the guest of her cousins, Misses Beulah and Artie Tatum.

Miss Edna Black and Mrs. Maria Likens have returned from Frankfort, where they have been visiting for some time.

BEAVER DAM.

June 28.—Another week of clear weather and the threshing machine will be heard in this vicinity. Then the golden grain will begin to come in. As the war is still in progress in Europe, the price will likely be high. The farmers should remember how they lost on their wheat last year and do as they did with their poultry and wool—pool their wheat and realize the good prices themselves. The Equity folks shipped a car load of stock from this place last week.

Mr. E. H. Burgess sold his family grocery to Mr. Cicero Liles and others last week, and Mr. Flavius Baker bought the restaurant and grocery of Mr. Joe Tate.

Mr. Carrol Chapman, of Herrin, Ill., spent the week-end in town, visiting his aunt, Mrs. Mate Hunley. Mrs. Shelby Taylor and daughter, Kittle Lou, of Crowley, La., have arrived in town to spend the summer with Mrs. Taylor's father, Mr. Geo. H. Barnes.

Miss Genevieve Taylor left last week to visit friends in Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. A. K. Miller and daughter, Miss Myrl, are visiting Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. Fred Taylor, Princeton, Ky., this week.

Misses Katie Bland, of Calhoun, Ky., and Nellie Alford, Hartford, spent the week-end with Misses Annie Alford and Ruth Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Williams returned to their home at Stone, Ky., Saturday, after a pleasant visit with relatives here.

Mason Taylor shipped a carload of mixed stock from Beaver Dam today.

THE PREMIERSHIP IS PLACED WITH LANSING

Counselor Is Appointed Secretary of State To Succeed W. J. Bryan.

Washington, June 26.—President Wilson has appointed Robert Lansing, of Watertown, N. Y., to be Secretary of State. Mr. Lansing succeeds W. J. Bryan. Since Bryan's resignation, June 9, Lansing has been Secretary of State ad interim, under appointment of the President, and before that was Counselor of the Department of State, succeeding John Bassett Moore.

Lansing presents a strong contrast in almost every respect to his predecessor. He is not a propagandist, nor agitator, is highly trained in the duties of his office, has the legal "turn of mind," is on excellent terms with the newspaper corps, is not burdened with a host of office-seeking friends, and is in the fullest accord with the President on his foreign policy.

A commission was prepared which President Wilson signed, giving Lansing a recess appointment. When Congress reconvenes, the nomination will go to the Senate. No opposition to his confirmation is anticipated.

One of the peculiar circumstances in connection with Lansing's appointment is the fact that he personally has no political backing or influence. In succeeding William Jennings Bryan, foremost among the leaders of the Democratic party, a comparatively unknown quantity in the political world has been ushered into the premiership of the Cabinet.

Lansing is 51 years old.

Prepare For Advanced Standing In Music Before Going Away To School.

If you intend going away to school and studying music you need at least a few lessons to prepare you for the new fields of work you will find there. I have made a special study of piano for the past three years—two years at National Park Seminary, Washington, D. C., and this last year at the New England Conservatory, Boston, Mass. Here at the conservatory I am studying under the head of the Normal Department and am having special instruction in teaching. I can give you a good foundation in the best and most scientific methods as taught here at the conservatory and can fit you to enter as an advanced student rather than a beginner.

I shall teach piano and voice with the necessary Harmony and Solfeggio lessons in addition.

I shall gladly answer any questions in regard to lessons, if you are interested. MARY FELIX, Hartford, Ky.

The Wrong Man.

A man went into a Southern restaurant not long ago and asked for a piece of old-fashioned Washington pie. The waiter, not understanding and yet unwilling to concede his lack of knowledge, brought the customer a piece of chocolate cake.

"No, no my friend," said the man. "I meant George Washington, not Booker Washington."—[St. Paul Daily News.

NEWSPAPERS BEST FOR ADVERTISING PURPOSES

Have Gripping National Power, Says Speaker Before Ad. Men's Convention.

Chicago, June 26.—Present-day newspapers are a better advertising medium than ever because they have a more gripping national power—a power that should be studied by every thinking advertiser, Joseph H. Finn, of Chicago, told delegates attending the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World held here.

Mr. Finn spoke of the "Newspaper, the Advertiser and the Advertising Agent." He declared that advertising is the news about merchandising and that there was nothing closer to the hearts of the reading public than the "live news concerning buying opportunity."

"I believe in the efficiency of newspaper advertising," said Mr. Finn, "because I have seen what it can do in such a variety of lines, covering such a diversity of propositions that the possibility of luck or accident must be eliminated from consideration."

It is the paper which publishes the true news that pays the advertiser best, the speaker said.

"Generally speaking, the best newspaper is the one which secures the best advertising," Mr. Finn continued. "And the best advertising is what helps make it the best newspaper. Truth is the slogan of this convention. Truth is the slogan of the newspaper that hopes to win the most lasting success—the widest influence."

"It is the truth that good times and bad are largely a matter of psychology. In this respect, the power of the newspaper is almost beyond reckoning."

Surprise Dinner Party.

On June 25th, J. R. Read's 70th birthday, his children with other friends gave him and his wife a surprise dinner. Many relatives were present and all enjoyed a great feast. After dinner there could be seen quite a number of people 65 years old and over, talking of things long past. In another place could be seen the middle age ones talking of matters of later occurrence, and here and there were groups of children, thinking and talking of the present. There were over 40 persons present. After a day of great pleasure, all returned to their homes. It was a day to be long remembered by all present.
